

Business Here Rises 20% to an All-time High

When this 1955-56 season comes to an end, Palm Springs retail business volume will have totaled at least 20 per cent more than the preceding season for an all-time high, in the opinion of a cross section of merchants here.

While a few specific dollar volume figures are available, percentage data indicates a varying increase was general. Widest variation came during Easter Week, ranging from a loss of business by a drug store which said the influx of teenagers drove out adult customers, to a 40 per cent increase by a dime store.

Women's wear shops, according to the survey made by the retail merchants division of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, appeared to enjoy the largest increase for the entire season, with men's wear only a little behind.

Gift shop business was up substantially, and it is noteworthy that some reported the Easter teenagers, condemned by a few merchants, were buying heavily of gifts to be mailed home to their mothers.

Restaurant business was up sufficiently that at least two additional ones plan to remain open all but three weeks this summer. Dry cleaners and jewelers also reported good gains over last season, and one liquor store said its volume was up 25 per cent.

Much of the business gain was attributed to the newspaper and radio promotion campaign put on by the retailers and the Chamber of Commerce. Promotion expenditures for this season totalled $13,000, and $15,000 is tentatively budgeted for next.

Stores generally are remaining open from one to six weeks later than usual this season. This trend got a last-minute fillip from the district Lions convention last week end, which produced for a number of merchants their highest one-day count on record.

Curiously, the Village's apparent best business season was achieved despite such adverse factors as an airline strike that crippled transportation for many weeks, a change in policy at the Desert Inn which cancelled several scheduled conventions and an unusual number of dust storms which contributed little to shopping enthusiasm. As season's end nears, merchants are wondering how good business might have been without these handicaps.

New Boundaries Cut Rancho Mirage in Half; Incorporation Still in Doubt

The Rancho Mirage area petition for incorporation as a city was cut in half by the Riverside County board of supervisors Monday when they unanimously voted on determination of boundaries. Excluded was the property previously mentioned as a site for a race track.

The hearing was continued to May 21 at 2 p.m., when the supervisors will attempt to decide how many residents are within the boundaries as revised Monday. Unless there are 500, the supervisors cannot set a date for election. It was the lack of the required number which halted a previous attempt a year ago to incorporate the area.

William Shaw, attorney for the petitioners, produced figures Monday showing a population of 748 inhabitants within the original boundaries. Allowed a 10-minute recess in which to figure out the number in the revised boundaries, Robert L. Biggs, owner of the American Research Service of Los Angeles, told supervisors there are 163 inhabitants in the area now excluded, leaving the number within the new boundaries 585, more than sufficient for calling an election.

IT WAS BIGGS, together with four members of his staff, who took the count which Shaw used as a population figure. Biggs said he was employed and paid by the Committee for Incorporation.

John Babbage, attorney for the opponents to incorporate, urged a delay for study of Biggs' report. Shaw said he could see no reason to furnish the costly report to the opposition, but would be glad to make it available to the supervisors.

The maps showed that many property owners had requested exclusion.

For the first time during the incorporation hearings, the proposed race track was mentioned. Fred Schmidt, speaking for incorporation, declared, "When the time comes for the race track, the people will have an opportunity to speak if Rancho Mirage is incorporated. They will have an opportunity for a hearing on the race track proposal. Today we don't have that opportunity."

The approved boundaries include all of Section 18, T8S, R6E, and all but the very southerly portion of Section 13, T8S, R5E, as well as the south half of Section 12, T8S, R5E. The area eliminated is the southeast portion of Section 1, T8S, R5E, included in the original boundaries, the north half of Section 12 in the same township and range and all of Sections 6, 7 and 13, T8S, R6E.

Weather Still Delaying Pacific H-Bomb Test

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY AT ENIWETOK, Wednesday — Atomic officials awaited today the reports of weather experts before deciding when to stage America's first air-dropped explosion of a hydrogen bomb.

The explosion was tentatively scheduled for about 45 minutes before dawn Thursday around 2 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

LATE TUESDAY night, prospects for the explosion appeared to be dim. Officials said northwest winds were still blowing at all altitudes.

An atomic explosion taking place under such circumstances would mean the radioactive bomb cloud would drift over the inhabited Marshall Islands and subject the natives to a dangerous fallout. Atomic officials refused to take any chances of that.

It appeared likely that the unfavorable wind patterns would continue for the next 48 hours. Thus, there would have to be a weather change at the last minute if the bomb is to be exploded Thursday.

THE H-BOMB WILL be put aboard an Air Force B52 intercontinental bomber the night before the explosion. At 3 a.m. on the morning of the explosion, the eight-jet bomber will take off from Eniwetok Island for a series of dry runs over the target.

The target is a 100-yard-wide lighted bullseye on Namu Island, a half-square mile of coral about 15 miles from Bikini.

The drop will be visual, aided by a radar reflector on Namu. The bomb will be detonated about 10,000 feet above the ocean.

Ben-Gurion Doubts War Threat Gone

Israel Premier Says Arab States Don't Want Peace

TEL AVIV, Israel — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today the basic danger of war between Israel and the Arab states still exists because there is "no sign that any of the Arab states really want peace."

He said a direct meeting between Arab and Jewish representatives was the only way to bring about a general improvement in Mideast relations and renewed his proposal for a meeting with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and other Arab leaders.

THE WHITE-HAIRED premier said also that "without a balance of forces between the Arab states and Israel it is difficult to believe there will be no outbreak of war."

Ben-Gurion received this correspondent for the first interview he had granted since U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold flew to the Middle East last month to try and prevent war breaking out along the tense Gaza Strip.

In an appraisal of the Hammarskjold mission Ben-Gurion said he hoped the "visit has been useful since he brought about, at least for the time being, a cease fire on the part of Egypt and also perhaps on the part of Jordan."

BUT BEN-GURION charged that Arab attacks across the Israeli border since the forging of the cease fire "arouse doubt in either the willingness or capacity of the Egyptian dictator to maintain order in the Gaza Strip."

The premier said such incidents as the blowing up of a house on the Israeli side of the Jordan border Sunday "raises skepticism as to the insecurity of the Jordanian forces."

Ben-Gurion said he was "afraid . . . that the basic danger of war still exists."

3 Convicts Hold Guard 6 Hours Until Newsman Pledges to Tell Their Story

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Three long-term convicts, who held a prison guard captive more than six hours with a razor at his throat and scissors at his back today were placed in maximum security.

The prisoners freed the guard, Ernie Loveless, 38, unharmed last night when a newspaperman promised to print the story of their grievances.

Oakalla Prison authorities identified the prisoners as Marcel Frenette, 28, and Robert Tremblay, 33, both of Montreal, and Charlie Talbot, 36. They were serving 20-year sentences for attempted murder following an underworld clash between narcotics distributors.

'COPTERS PIN DOWN GUERRILLAS WHILE FIGHTERS BOMB THEM

ALGIERS — Angry French troops blasted a guerrilla nest in the hills of Northwestern Algeria today, boosting casualties of two days of bitter battle to more than 250 dead.

Helicopter-borne French soldiers used mortars to pin down some 200 guerrillas cornered in a hill-top sheepfold until fighter planes arrived to smash the position with bombs and rockets.

More than 100 Arabs, including some Moroccans, were killed and 67 were taken prisoner in the battle.

The cornered guerrillas were remnants of bands numbering about 2500 which killed 54 persons yesterday in the bloodiest raids of the 18-month reign of terror in Algeria. The Arabs' victims included 17 European residents, 13 men, three women and a child, and 37 loyal natives.

The guerrillas burned out 47 farms in Oran Province and kidnapped a European girl and 20 natives.

U.S. Fears Reds are Luring Some NATO Partners

WASHINGTON — The United States is afraid some of its North Atlantic Treaty allies are putting too much faith in Russia's sweet talking peace campaign.

Some officials fear certain NATO partners may try to reduce military draft periods for their young men or cut their defense spending. Either move could hurt the effectiveness of the NATO pact, the West's bulwark against the threat of Soviet aggression.

The difference between U.S. and some other NATO allies' estimates of new Russian peace tactics was emphasized at last week's NATO council meeting in Paris.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who returned from the meeting yesterday, reports on the session tonight at about 6:30 p.m. PDT in a nationwide radio address. He will speak before the national convention of B'nai B'rith, Jewish service and philanthropic organization.

Dulles is expected to tell his audience about American-sponsored plans to create within NATO's framework a high level council to assure Western unity in the cold war. The council would deal with any problem which tends to disturb unity of the Atlantic Allies.

India Will Levy on U.S. Materials

NEW DELHI, India — The Indian government has notified the United States it will have to pay customs duties on any materials it brings into the country for the new embassy to be built here, informed sources said today.

The sources told United Press this would increase the cost of the building by $200,000. They said the embassy staff was split over whether to make an issue of it.

Face on TV Solves Old Swindle here

Bigamist Who Bilked Woman Spotted By Officer

A strange story of flight from prosecution on charges of grand theft; of six months of unsuccessful police work by the local department; of an arrest in Los Angeles on bigamy charges; of a chance look at a face and name on television, and then the taking into custody of a man who is accused of working one of the oldest confidence games in the world, was reported by local police today.

Max Alenik, 56, was lodged in the city jail Saturday, after he had served a 90-day jail term in Los Angeles on bigamy charges. With the man in custody, Sgt. Ted Greene closed the wanted file on Alenik, and booked him on charges of grand theft, for allegedly bilking a Paolina woman, Frances Gordon, out of $1,200 in savings and several hundred dollars in jewelry, following a phony marriage in Las Vegas.

The story started just a little over a year ago, when Alenik "married" Miss Gordon in Las Vegas and came to Palm Springs for a honeymoon.

During their stay here, he reportedly persuaded his "wife" to transfer her savings to a joint account. Having convinced her on this, he sent her to Desert Hot Springs "to look over some property" and taking the money and jewelry, left the city. They had been married under the name of Milton Baron.

Mrs. Gordon reported to police what had happened, and Chief of Police August G. Kettmann assigned Sgt. Ted Greene to the case. After six months, he knew little more than he did the day the crime was reported, except that Alenik used many aliases, but at home one evening, while watching television, the Los Angeles police flashed the face of a man on the screen who had been arrested for bigamy. Greene knew that it was his man, so he contacted Los Angeles police and told them that Alenik was wanted here for questioning in a grand theft case. It was eleven weeks before he went to trial in Los Angeles, then he was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Alenik was turned over to local police Saturday, and yesterday before Judicial Judge Eugene Theriault he pleaded not guilty and was bound over for a preliminary hearing on May 22. His bail was set at $2,000.

Greene said that Alenik is also wanted by the Denver police on a confidence game charge. The suspect is reported to have served two years in a Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, on charges of stealing government property.

Rocket Flubs Record, Goes Up Only 116 Miles

WHITE SANDS, N.M. — The Navy today launched its Aerobee-Hi rocket, shooting for a new altitude record, but the rocket climbed only to 116.5 miles into the atmosphere, far short of a record.

A spokesman said there was no major malfunction and that the launching was a success for purpose of testing the performance of the new rocket.

But he said the performance "was not nearly what had been anticipated."

The Navy had hoped to reach an altitude of 185 miles with the rocket, launched on this vast proving ground.

Levy Would be One Cent on the Dollar

Another Proposal May Tax Goods For Outside Delivery

Inauguration of a use tax ordinance will be considered at the May 9 meeting of the City Council, and the monies collected from the tax will be used to start a city employees retirement plan.

The use tax, as proposed for enactment by October 1, 1956, will be one cent on a dollar, and will chiefly be drawn from on-sale and off-sale liquor sales. With the starting of this plan, the council contemplates changes in the present tax ordinance, i.e. the taxing of goods sold here and delivered outside the city.

Reason given for the levy of taxes on tavern owners is that it is the only medium which does not have a local city tax. The only revenue, about $15,000 per year, that the city now gets from this medium is a rebate from the State on liquor licenses.

With the enforcement of the use tax, and deletion of out-of-city tax-free sales, it is estimated that $50 to $60 thousand dollars will be made available for a city retirement program. If this medium is not used, it is deemed necessary to raise the local tax rate to meet the budget.

City Manager R. W. Peterson said today that some source for such a program (retirement) must be found, and added that the change in the present sales tax ordinance is in compliance with action now being taken by the county and cities to contract with the state to collect the taxes.

It was reported that the amount of money that will be collected annually from on and off-sale liquor sales will be about $25,000 and the balance will be claimed from the other source changed by the ordinance.

The entire tax setup, when completed and passed by the council, will conform with regulations for contracting with the state, thereby saving the local retail merchant the job of filing double returns—one to the state and one to the city.

Gold was found here in 1880 by an Indian. Twenty years later Mexican prospectors struck a rich lode, and the town of Picacho sprang up. The gold brought gay times in its wake. The "bankroll" period ended when the mines were exhausted in the twentieth century.

Reich Calls for Lower Tariffs in Rotary Talk

"We can no longer afford the luxury of not considering our foreign economic policy in connection with our military alliances," Herman Reich, candidate for Congress, told members of the Cathedral City Rotary Club Monday noon at the Wonder Palms Hotel.

Reich's topic was "Our Foreign Economic Policy."

"An ally possessing a strong economy can contribute more to our common defense," Reich continued. "There is a definite relation between tariffs and survival. Lowering tariffs on what other nations can make better and cheaper may temporarily hurt some American producers but in the long run will increase production in what we can make better and cheaper."

This was the start of a busy week for Reich. This noon he addressed the El Centro Optimist Club, and tomorrow he will appear at the El Centro Lions Club meeting. On Thursday he will speak before the Hemet Exchange Club, and on Friday at the Banning Rotary Club meeting.

In between appearances, he will conduct a house-to-house campaign in each city.

By EARL R. OBERN Real Estate Editor

Today we would like to tell our readers about one of our local Realtors who just opened a new office at 1171 North Palm Canyon Drive. He is John C. Davis.

John first came to Los Angeles from Nebraska in 1909. In Los Angeles, he worked for the Premier Automobile Company teaching buyers of their $3450 cars how to drive. Later, he helped build a Monorail at Wilmington, California, then to Scotia Lumber Mill. When he left there he was paid off in gold.

Returning to the middle west, he was with the Almo Engine Co. of Hillsdale, Michigan, traveling the 11 western states, then into the Army for World War I, serving until after the armistice.

He first entered real estate activity in Idaho as a broker working on subdivisions. John met his wife Rita in Idaho Falls in 1920 and left for Los Angeles to go with Certain-teed Products Corporation where he was sales manager for 17 years.

IN 1940 HE WAS back in the real estate business with his own office in the Los Angeles Miracle Mile.

Coming to Palm Springs in May 1952, he became associated with the John Munholland office. He still maintains his office in Los Angeles as a branch, but says he is here to stay in the one and only Palm Springs and wishes to thank all the realtors in Palm Springs for their past cooperation.

Coronado Man Named Dist. 4E2 Lions Governor

Seiden Hooper of the Coronado Lions Club was elected governor of District 4E2 at the convention of the district which brought almost 1,000 Lions and families to the Village last weekend.

Hooper is Deputy district governor for the Central San Diego region.

Although no definite choice was announced on the 1957 convention city for 4E2, it is believed that Coronado will be chosen.

PRIOR TO THIS YEAR, Districts 4E1 and 4E2 had held joint conventions and this was the first time 4E2 met alone.

According to figures released yesterday, 801 visiting Lions registered at the Oasis Hotel, headquarters for the convention. Last year at Catalina, when the two districts held a joint convention, slightly more than 400 registered. Success of the convention was highly gratifying, retiring District Governor Boynton E. Jones of Indio, and President E. E. Therleau said.

OFFICIAL SESSIONS of the convention were held at the Plaza theater where reports of various officials were heard and discussion of aims and activities of Lions International outlined by several speakers.

Breakfasts and luncheons both for the visiting delegates and ladies' luncheons were on the program with the American Legion Hall the center of a show, concert and dance Saturday night.

All of the prizes in the golf tournament held on Friday in which 36 participated, went out of town but one. Al Stutz took the only prize for the local host club in competition, tying for closest to hole 3 at O'Donnell's.

Al Gardiner was general chairman for the host club in arranging local programs, ably assisted by Norm Waters and his active committee.

Country Clubs Boost Economy

The modern country club is an American phenomenon and new ones are springing up everywhere, even in many small towns. In the town of Murray, Ky., which I visited recently, the young people there are just completing a 9-hole golf course and a modest clubhouse. It is adding much to the enjoyment of life for the young people. A new country club was just opened recently in Tulsa and another in the same city is being organized. Private clubs are flourishing in all of the resort areas of the country.

Palm Springs is fortunate to have more Country Clubs for its size than any town in the country. Moreover, they are all outstanding and might be said to constitute the backbone of this resort community. Being individual in character they provide a variety of facilities, each with a special appeal.

It started way back in 1935 when Charley Farrell and Ralph Bellamy organized the Racquet Club as a rendezvous for a small group who liked to come to Palm Springs and play tennis. It wasn't long, however, until the sociability of the place attracted many who had never set foot on a tennis court — including quite a number from the movie colony. The private club appeal took hold rapidly and the Palm Springs clubs now have on their membership list prominent people from all parts of the country.

Asked how he happened to be a member of one of the clubs here, a prominent resident of an eastern city told me that — while he didn't get to visit here more than a week or 10 days a year — he and his wife felt that membership in the club was a mark of social distinction. It also helped him in his business, he said.

One of the beauty spots of Palm Springs, The Tennis Club is known from coast to coast. Built by Cliff Henderson as the social and recreational center for the residents of his planned Palm Desert community, Shadow Mountain Club is more a family club than any other in this area. It is the only one that has remained open all summer and is a popular gathering place for Valley residents on a summer evening.

The building of Thunderbird's 18-hole golf course with its club and residential facilities opened a new era of recreational development for the Desert Area. Because of its excellent facilities and the wide appeal of golf Thunderbird put the Palm Springs area on the golf map. Tamarisk Country Club followed right on the heels of its neighbor and thereby doubled golfing facilities in the area and attracted another large group of members.

Newest addition to the club group is The Ranch Club which took over The Stables, long operated by Trav Rogers. The members of this new club, which maintains a Western atmosphere, may also take advantage of the tie-in with a beach club. New also in recent years is the Twentyfive Club which was organized as a social group.

All of the clubs vary in their methods of ownership and operation. But it has taken a lot of money, courage and confidence in the future of this resort area to get them started — and a lot of hard work too. The golf clubs, particularly, cost a lot of money to build and maintain. All had to be raised from private capital without profit motive. It took a lot of love of the desert and the game to create these clubs which have contributed so much to the economy of this region.

The more I travel around this county the more I appreciate what the clubs mean to Palm Springs. In the excellence of their facilities, food service and friendly atmosphere they are hard to beat anywhere. In our accounting of what makes this resort so popular with so many people we must enter a big credit to the clubs.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

WASHINGTON — Legislation is being drafted to require radio-TV networks and stations to allot a certain amount of time for free electioneering by the two major political parties.

Democratic congressional leaders have definitely decided on this.

IN THE HOUSE—Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., and Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., are vigorously pressing such a mandatory bill. It will be sponsored by Representatives Oren Harris, Ark., senior member of the Interstate Commerce Committee, which has jurisdiction over radio and TV, and Hale Boggs, La., of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, which originates revenue legislation.

Also Representative Percy Priest, Tenn., chairman of the Commerce Committee, has given assurances of speedy consideration of the proposed legislation. Priest has already offered a bill of his own (HR 10529), requiring networks and stations to give equal time to a candidate to answer an opponent.

IN THE SENATE — Senator Warren Magnuson, Wash., chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, is scheduling hearings on this issue later this month. Magnuson favors the Boggs-Harris compulsory plan rather than Priest's voluntary measure; that is, to require networks and stations to allocate a specified amount of free time to be divided equally between the two big political parties.

There would be no restriction on Republicans and Democrats buying as much additional time as they want.

Basis of this backstage Democratic strategy is the contention that their party is seriously in danger of being "blackened out" in the crucial fall elections by overwhelming GOP purchase of radio-TV time.

National Chairman Paul Butler has repeatedly charged that the Republicans have already contracted for $2,000,000 of broadcasting time, and are planning to spend another $3,000,000 for this. As against that, Butler argues, the Democrats, with less than $100,000 in their treasury, have not been able to buy any advance time.

Privately, Democratic leaders are claiming some GOP backing for their "mandatory free time" plan.

Significance is attached to the surprise blast last week by Senator John Bricker (R-O.), against the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company. The 1948 GOP vice presidential candidate, who is ranking member of his party on the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, charged the two major networks with "holding the entire industry in an economic stranglehold." Bricker urged enactment of legislation to "bring the networks under direct federal control."

The Federal Communications Commission, under existing law, issues licenses to individual radio-TV stations, but does not have such authority over the networks.

Senator Magnuson is discussing with other Commerce Committee members summoning FCC officials for questioning to ascertain whether they now have the power to order the networks and stations to give an equal amount of free time to the Democrats and Republicans. Some legal authorities hold this can be done by the FCC without a new law. Others dispute that.

CALCULATED RISK—Egypt is making no political or any other commitments in exchange for large U.S. aid to construct the giant Aswan dam on the Nile.

That's what Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., disclosed under close questioning by Senate Republican Leader William Knowland, Calif., and Senator Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.).

WASHINGTON REPORT

He contended Egypt is not apt to become involved in war while building this costly dam.

"Why isn't it possible to obtain commitments from Egypt?" asked Senator Dirksen.

"One reason is that Egypt will have to furnish some $900,000,000 over a period of 20 years for this dam," replied Hoover. "Such a tremendous expenditure will require extreme austerity on the part of the Egyptians. Under those circumstances Egyptian leaders are not willing to make political or any other kind of commitments in exchange for our help on this project. They say they won't be able to engage in either an arms race or war while they are building this immense dam."

Senator Knowland cited Egypt's alliance with the other Arab countries.

"What if they become involved in war with Israel?" pointed out Knowland. "Won't that draw Egypt into it under the agreements with them?"

"Yes, that is a possibility," admitted Hoover.

"Isn't there also the danger," continued Knowland, "that about the time this dam is completed, an Israeli bomber might drop explosives on it and destroy it?"

Again Hoover concurred. "But Egyptians have been looking forward to the realization of this project for many generations," he added. "We feel that once the dam is constructed, that it will have a distinctly stabilizing effect on the Middle East rather than a disturbing one."

The Undersecretary of State also told the senators we have no assurances that Russia will not come in on this project.

"Do they have the equipment and technicians to do a job of this kind?" asked Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.).

"Yes, they probably have," replied Hoover. "They have carried out some very large projects in Russia and China. They would go to great lengths to do this one, pulling people from all over their empire for that purpose."

By Phat

Well, my Count Chic wasn't so slick. There was no mud so I fell with a thud in my Kentucky Derby pick. But that's all right. It was a state of normalcy. Outside of Determination and Swaps which was a case of loyalty to California, most of my Derby picks are like that. But an improvement is noted. My choice finished fourth this year instead of far down the track.

REMEMBER LAST WEEK when I told you about a Villager who said he didn't care who won the Derby although he sent a couple bucks back to Louisville? Gave a friend the two dollars just so that he could have a souvenir of the great horse classic. When his friend asked him on which horse he'd like to risk his two fish he said he didn't know. "Tell you what," he said. "I'll just pick a number and you bring me back the ticket. I want to file it away with my souvenirs."

THE NUMBER he picked was three. That was several days before the event and even before post positions had been drawn. No. 3 was Needles who won and paid $5.20 on the front end.

So this Villager who, by the way is Pat Stambaugh of the Uplift Department of the Dunes, is hoping that his friend brings him back some other ticket—also the $5.20.

"Surely, the guy must have had some sour tickets during the day," Pat said.

SEE WHERE another one of my pipe dreams may become real one of these days. If you recall, I once expressed the wish that some smart man would invent a typewriter before which you could just sit and think and it would write down your thoughts. There were drawbacks, of course. You might be stung by a bee while thinking or see a pretty girl pass by. Then you'd have to move back the typewriter carriage and think a lot of Xs.

But in Chicago the other day Henry Dreyfuss, a leading industrial engineer, said that one of these days there'll be an electronic typewriter on the market before which you'll sit and talk and out will roll one neat copy.

Probably a lot better on spelling than this old two-finger manual method.

COMES A LETTER from I. E. Bloch, excerpts of which follow not only because he has a good idea but also because he starts his missive out so nicely.

"Dear Phat," he wrote, "you have been instrumental in bringing about many needed improvements in Palm Springs and I wonder if you have given thought to one which would greatly benefit the entire desert area."

Kidney Stones

In recent years there have been some new cases which deal with the development of kidney stones. These have allowed for some new methods of prevention and treatment in the formation of stones or their removal from the urinary tract.

In all individuals there is almost constantly a great solubility of the salts in the blood which have, through a chemical affinity, been drawn through the kidneys without becoming deposited there and forming concretions.

The one thing which may sometimes become attached to the kidney cells in its penetration of this filter mechanism is a bacterium. Not infrequently may this act as the starting point for the deposition of some of the salts which pass with the urine, allowing for stone formation.

Many of you may have noticed in collecting a specimen in a bottle, which is allowed to stand for an interval of many hours, especially in a cold room, that a sediment collects at the bottom, which is composed largely of the precipitated salts which have been passed in the urine.

TWO TYPES of stones from a chemical standpoint are found, those which may occur in the presence of an acid reaction, and those which are known as alkaline earth stones. In the former we find the uric acid type, while in the latter calcium or magnesium, ammonium, phosphates or carbonates are seen. In this latter group, calcium oxalate which is found in eating of some peculiar foods such as rhubarb is not uncommon.

The most common stones are the calcium phosphate stones associated with an increase of a calcium output through the kidneys. This may result from an abnormality of the parathyroid glands which control to some extent the calcium metabolism. It also is seen from Vitamin D intoxication, that is the taking of excessively large doses of this vitamin, which in its oil content sometimes has a peculiar toxic substance.

IT IS MOST IMPORTANT to analyze the chemistry of the stone inasmuch as changing this chemistry would allow a prevention of formation of new stones. I can well remember a patient who on actual count had 64 stones lodged in his kidneys. Most of these disappeared spontaneously, changing the chemistry of his urine through altering the diet, and giving medication which also acted to again put the salts composing the stones into solution.

Some times the stone may develop in the pelvis of the kidney which is the collecting pouch for the secreting urine. It may fill this area completely preventing further function of the kidney, and its gradual atrophy or destruction. Such stones must be treated surgically, which is not a difficult procedure in the hands of the trained surgeon.

Infection, when present, must be done away with, which is not too difficult in these days of antibiotic treatment. And not frequently estrogenic hormones are of value in also causing the excretion of certain of the salt compounds.

The excruciating pain found with the migration of kidney stones is due to their attempted passage through ureter, from the kidney to the bladder. Not infrequently is there some of the mucous membrane lining the wall of this tube so that bleeding associated with the severe pain is very common. Fortunately, a diagnosis can be readily established and proper treatment instituted giving relief.

EARL WILSON:

'I Won't Tell You My Age'

NEW YORK — A middle-aged woman who can be brittle but calm when asked her age is a woman of poise in my book—and notebook.

While interviewing Constance Bennett in her Park Ave. apartment about her new career as a saloon chanteuse, I handed her a letter.

"The painful truth," said this mischievous missive, "is that Constance Bennett was born in New York in 1905, making her 51 this year!"

Connie Bennett, sitting there in black velvet hostess pajamas, read it through her glasses to a couple of friends.

"So now I'm 51!" And her laugh rang through the apartment.

"It amuses me"—her charm bracelet tinkled—"there's not a reference book that's correct about my age. Don't you think I'm remarkable for 72?"

"One needn't be ashamed of being 50 or 51," I said—subtly, I thought.

But Connie didn't stoop to the vulgarity of denying that she's 50, as most actresses would, even though they are.

"If I told you the truth about my age, everybody'd think I was lying. I started to lie about my age long ago."

"When I was 15, I added 7 years because I wanted to work..."

No wonder, of course, that now everybody's confused, and that Who's Who says she was born Oct. 22, 1908, which would make her 47, while the letter-writer claiming she's soon 51 says she told her birthdate in 1938—"when a 50-year-oldster of today was but 30 and free and willing to tell her age."

It reminded Connie how her sister Joan, the youngest Bennett, always told her true age, while Constance and Barbara cut years off.

"With the result that Joan, the youngest, ended up being the oldest!"

Connie—now singing delightfully at the Pierre Cotillion Room—recently faced an inebriated customer. She smiled sweetly, sang straight at him—and quieted him.

Good as she was then, her most magnificent acting performance was given, I'm sure, when I asked her her age—and she didn't tell me.

Matt Calac Puts Training to Use

Police officer Matt Calac, just returned from police school in Riverside, put his training to use a few hours after he was back in the job.

Early Sunday morning he was cruising in a squad car near the Tahquitz bridge, when he saw two men walking in that locality. He stopped to "check them out" and found one of them carrying a concealed weapon. Using the method of search that was taught him at the school, he found the gun, a .22 caliber, hidden in the inside of the man's belt.

The man, Joseph James Jackson, 20, a Marine from Twentynine Palms, was booked on violation of the weapon's act, and yesterday morning received a 30-day sentence, 25 suspended, and the gun was confiscated, in Judicial District Court of Judge Eugene Theriault.

Thrifty Drug Store Presents 3 One-Year Scholarships to USC

A check for three complete one-year scholarships has been presented to Dr. Alvah Hall, Dean of the U.S.C. School of Pharmacy, by Manny Borun, vice president of Thrifty Drug Stores, donors of the pharmacy scholarships.

The scholarships will be presented to three outstanding students now attending the U. S. C. School of Pharmacy and will cover their 1956-57 year as a sophomore, junior and senior, respectively.

Thrifty Drug Stores' scholarships are completely unrestricted by the donor and are awarded by Dr. Hall and his School of Pharmacy staff on the basis of scholastic ability, aptitude and personal qualifications for the practice of pharmacy.

"Since the School of Pharmacy was established at U.S.C. in 1905, it has turned out pharmacists of the highest calibre, and school records indicate that one out of every two pharmacists now employed in Southern California is a graduate of U.S.C.," said Borun during the presentation ceremony. "A large number of these top pharmacists are now employed by Thrifty Drug Stores Company, and we look forward to the graduation of each new class as a source of additional pharmacists for our stores."

37 Pints Blood Donated Monday

Thirty-seven pints of blood were donated at the monthly visit of the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county Blood Bank at Desert Hospital Monday, one of the best responses on record.

Quota for the monthly visits is set at 25 pints.

Main reason for the success was the donating of blood by about 20 persons for a Villager who is receiving treatment in a Los Angeles hospital. This emphasizes the point that blood may be donated here for credit in other recognized hospitals throughout the country, according to Robert Henwood, Hospital administrator.

Henwood praised the response to the visit, and urged that a similar success be recorded at the June visit.

BIG-CAR RIDE? Don't think you have to pay a big-car price to get it. Come in and...

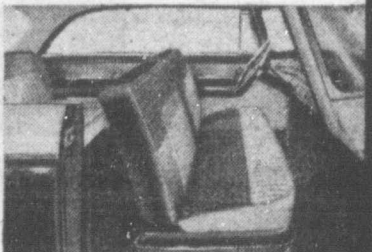

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

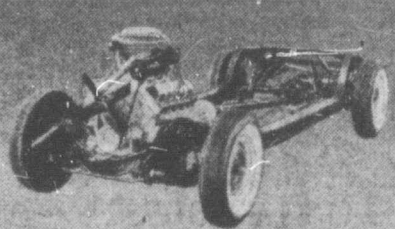

A smoother ride with Oriflow! Dodge fluid-activated shock absorbers give more precise control than spring-loaded valves in other cars.

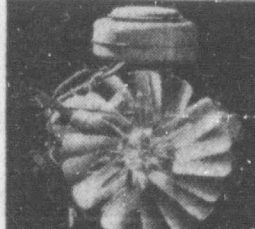

It took "big-car" ride to go 31,000 miles in 14 days! No car that just talked "big" could have withstood the tremendous punishment Dodge did at Bonneville. Dodge went 14 days and nights (31,000 miles) at an average speed of 92.86 mph without a single breakdown!

Only a big car can give you big-car ride! And Dodge is bigger all around—inside and out. More legroom front and rear. More hiproom front and rear. More steering wheel clearance.

The backbone of the Dodge ride is a better chassis! It starts with a rugged frame with sturdy box-section side rail construction far superior to common U-channel and I-beam types. Cross members are extra heavy.

The V-8 engine is special, too! The 260-hp. V-8 engine is built on advanced aircraft-design principles to give you real break-away power.

Celebrities are Guests at Big Luau

Palm fronds were the palings for the high fence that circled the far end of the pool at Thunderbird Saturday night to add to the tropical atmosphere for their annual luau.

Tani Marsh and Telu and other dancers did Island dances, to the romantic music that adds so much to the glamour of a luau. There were knife dances and a dance with each dancer carrying a candle flame.

The luau buffet was adorned with a huge anchor, carved out of blue ice, and offered an array of turkey, ham, beef, chicken, shrimp, crab and lobster, salads, and a sumptuous dessert table. Among the 450 in attendance were numbers of notables. Sparkler-lighted birthday cakes were brought for Alice Faye Harris and Bing Crosby.

Alice and Phil Harris, Bing and Kathy Grant, Desi Arnaz and Lucille Ball, Jimmy Van Heusen and Claudette Thornton, the Freeman Gosdens, Randolph Scotts, the Clarence Browns, Joan Davis and Jerry Nathanson, Mary and Bill Gargan, Nancy and Ralph Kiner, Jeannette MacDonald and Gene Raymond, and Hugh O'Brian were in the luau crowd.

Preceding the luau the Dick Snidemanns entertained around 50 at a cocktail party at Blue Skies Trailer Village, honoring the birth-

New Lighting with Old Furniture

CHICAGO (AP) — Modern lighting can go gracefully with traditional furnishings.

"Today's glamour lighting is just as appropriate to the 18th century, French provincial and colonial settings as it is to stark modern," says the American Home Lighting Institute.

It gave two principles which every homemaker can use to adapt modern lighting to the traditional room: first, provide adequate general lighting, and second, use accent lighting.

Once you've provided a soft level of light throughout the room and banished shadows and glare, the next step is to "spotlight" certain accent areas.

"An exquisitely detailed breakfast room with a display of precious crystal may deserve a ceiling spotlight. Or richly patterned draperies will glow with added beauty under valance or corner lighting," the institute said.

Among her guests were Jeannette MacDonald, Gene Raymond, Hugh O'Brian, the Dick Longs, Helen Worth, Joan Bering, Georges Stokowski, the Lewis Kingsleys, Ted Grouya. Many in the luau crowd came on from the Mexican party given by Dr. and Mrs. John Costello each Cinco de Mayo.

Most of the guests were in Hawaiian costumes and the women were given orchid leis, flown here from Hawaii.

Hollywood Bowl Plans Show Nights

Gay tuneful musical nights will be intermingled with "Symphonies Under the Stars" when the Hollywood Bowl opens its interesting eight-week season on July 10.

Noted symphony conductors will include Eugene Ormandy, Igor Markevitch, Wilfred Feller, Alfred Wallenstein, Izler Solomon, Bruno Walter, Leopold Stokowski and Kurt Herbert Adler.

Vocal soloists will include Marian Anderson, Inge Borkh, Leontyne Price, Birgit Nilsson, Renata Tebaldi and Richard Tucker. Paul Badura-Skoda and Walter Gieseking, pianists, and Zino Francescatti, violinist, also are programmed.

Saturday night pop concert conductors will include Johnny Green, David Rose and Paul Whiteman.

Pop concert soloists are named as Shirley Jones, Dan Dailey, Patricia Morison, Byron Palmer, Oreste, Dorothy Kirsten, Patrice Munsel, and many others.

ty on Sunday evening, May 13. There will be a wide latitude in costumes for the party, as members and their guests are invited to come as television characters. This means anything from a sports announcer to a Quiz Kid. There will be prizes for the best costumes.

Teddy Noel and his orchestra will play for dancing and there will be a charleston contest.

Last year's "Roaring Twenties" party, which started the end-of-the-season anniversary celebrations, was one of the best fun parties of the season, with nearly everyone in costumes of the 20's. Barry Sullivan was master of ceremonies and the judges for the hilarious charleston contest were William Holden, William Powell and Tony De Marco.

Manager Sherman Hull has announced that the Racquet Club will be open casually, with rooms still available, until June 1.

CINCO DE MAYO, the big holiday South of the Border, inspires the annual Mexican party given by Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, and most of their guests arrive in picturesque costumes. Around Town with Hildy Crawford

Cinco de Mayo is always the date . . . when Gwen and Dr. John Costello invite their friends for the Mexican party which they give each year . . . Saturday night's big affair was the second time that the party has been given at the Costellos' ranch on Clancy Lane, east of Rio del Sol Road . . . Flares on fence posts lighted the lane leading to the ranch house . . . and the two stuffed figures in a buggy that have adorned so many of their parties, were at the entrance . . .

Most of the guests were in squaw dresses, brilliant-sequined Mexican gowns, sombreros and serapes . . . or some form of attire suitable for a South of the Border affair . . .

The buffet table offered guacamole, tortillas, frijoles, and ham . . . and there were two bars, one for champagne . . . Marmalejo's orchestra played for dancing . . .

Among the guests, who must have numbered around 150, were the Charles Beckers, Edith and Dick Edward, the George Robinsons . . . Louise and Maury Hornor, the Ben Gales, Bob Kenastons, Helen Kenaston, Ed Robbins . . . Dean Vincents, Helen Lloyd, Vie and Bud Graves, the Bill Bannermans . . . Janice Bogert (Frank was on the Rancheros ride at Santa Barbara), Bertine Treat, the Ken Colburns, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, the Gordon Prentices, Sam Kraemers (there was much purple velvet in her colorful Mexican costume) . . .

The Frank Clancys (they live at the other end of Clancy Lane), Earl Cordreys, James Malones, Kay and Howard Morris . . . Zaddie Bunker, Gus Kettmanns, Henry Dollards, Kay and Dolph Obergef . . . Peg and Norm Waters, the George Wheelers, Mrs. Austin McManus, Lillian and Franklyn MacCarthy . . . the James Hammonds, were among the early crowd . . . with many more arriving later . . . after we had left reluctantly to see what was going on a couple of other places . . .

Hank Gogerty, who later did his famous "Cock-Eyed Mayor" dance at the Thunderbird luau . . . did the best job of combining Mexican and luau costumes . . . adding a serape and a big Mexican hat to his beachcomber outfit . . .

Ray Ryan, Bill Holden and Barney Hinkle leave the 20th on a sightseeing tour to Russia . . . They will go by Polar Flight to Copenhagen . . . and then to Russia . . . going as far east as they are permitted . . .

The Frank Camps leave in mid-June . . . sailing from San Francisco on a cruise of the Orient . . . On the way back they will stop in Hawaii . . . and do not expect to be home until October . . .

Inger Stevens, who has just finished a New York engagement she was in "Debut" . . . is houseguesting with the Frank Bennets . . . Inger is out here for green tests . . . and looks like she would be extremely photogenic . . . with dimples . . .

Edna (Mrs. Edward) Rothbart entertained a few friends at a farewell luncheon at the Racquet Club Saturday . . . before returning to Chicago . . . Ed, who went some a month ago is just back from a flying trip to London . . . Luncheon guests were Mmes. George Barrett, Charles Farrell, Harry Joe Brown, Frank Bering, John McClure, Dick Carr, Sherman Hull, Bill Crawford and Mrs. John Quarty, who is a houseguest of Mrs. Barrett, and Miss Marjorie Kohl . . .

Harry Joe Brown, just back from vacation in Arizona, Charlie Farrell and director Bruce "Lucky" Humberstone stopped by to say "adios" to the attractive hostess.

Fern and Harold McAlister have invited 50 friends to a cocktail buffet . . . which they will give in the garden of their Camino Encanto home . . . on May 11 . . . The McAlisters do not plan to close their house here until mid-June . . . but this party will be a farewell to friends who are leaving soon . . .

That same evening . . . Melba and Frank Bennett have invited friends to a barbecue at their home on Camino del Mirasol . . . celebrating their 35th anniversary . . . Frank returned this weekend from Oregon . . . where he went for the opening of the fishing season along the MacKenzie River . . .

This isn't anything unusual at popular Don the Beachcomber's restaurant . . . but the rope was up and people were waiting in line to get in . . . when we dropped in for dinner Friday evening . . . Dinah Shore and George Montgomery and their little daughter were at the Queen's Table . . . and Vera-Ellen and Vic Rothchild were across the room . . . Mrs. Harold Bell Wright came in with her son Gilbert and his wife, who are visiting her from Malibu.

Prom Queen Identity is Top Secret

Interest is high this week at Palm Springs High School in the well-kept secret of who will be crowned Queen at the annual Junior-Senior Prom, which will be held at the Racquet Club on Friday night.

Speculation is rife, as to which of four popular Senior girls, Buzzy Rosin, Carol Wrathall, Susan Cable or Gretchen Gerhardt, will be crowned at the Prom.

The Junior-Senior Prom, given each year, for members of the graduating class, is easily the highlight of the school year, with each Junior Class attempting to surpass all previous efforts. With $1500 in their treasury, this Junior class is easily the most solvent in high school history and this year's Prom with its "Under Water Fantasy" theme, is expected to be an elaborate affair. The Juniors will pick up the tab for the dinner-dance, and for the first time will not charge for tickets.

In addition to dinner, prepared by the Racquet Club chefs, there will be dancing to the music of Teddy Noel and his orchestra. The crowning of the Queen of the Prom will highlight festivities. President Roger Williams and Vice President Janice Sakofsky head the Prom committee, with Jerry Greenfield in charge of tickets, and Rollen Binzer, decorations.

Home on Leave

Gary Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hammond, has completed his basic training at Ford Ord and is home on leave.

A member of the 2nd Infantry Regiment, 1st Platoon, Gary was one of the two selected for service in the Army Band. On Thursday he will fly to Ft. Dix, New Jersey, where his second eight weeks' training period will be in band training.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Blondon returned Friday from Phoenix, where they went for a few days vacation.

Polo Club Ends Season with Ramada Chuckwagon

Palm Springs Polo Club held its last meeting of this season on Sunday night, when members and their guests gathered at George Roberson's Camp Carizo, for a chuckwagon dinner. The Robersons and the Irving Snyders were hosts.

The ramada is on a hilltop at the end of a narrow winding road that leads off the Palms-to-Pines highway, up above Palm Desert. Awaiting the crowd was the chuckwagon, and red-and-white checkered tablecloths covered the tables which were set up under the shelter. The Wagoneer trio, Ace and Deuce Spriggins and Tony Francini, played and there was dancing on the circular, cement dance floor, under the desert stars. Polo Club president Jack Kenaston was away on a flying trip to Florida and Dr. William Elliott presided.

Among those in attendance were a number who were original members of the Polo Club, when it was started over 21 years ago. Charles Farrell, Russ Havenstrite, Carl Beal, Big Boy Williams, Willie Tevis and Arthur Borden were among the early polo players, in the days when the Club revolved about polo. The late Dr. Henry Hoagland was the first president of the Club and early members were the Farrells, Warren Pinney, Aivah Hicks, Frank and Melba Bennet, Trav Rogers, Helen Lindsay (now Kenaston), the George Robersons, Earl Coffman, Carl Lykkens, Barney Hinkle, Ted and Marion Fulford.

The Robersons, Bennets, Lykkens, Marion Matthews, Barney Hinkle, were at the chuckwagon. Among others were the Fred Ingrams, Milk and Maggie Hicks, Harold Hicks and Georgiana Poston, Florian Boyds, Herb Samsons, Bob Kenaston, Ed Dillon, Frank Camps, Claude Valeurs, Lou Manseau, Rod Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hotchkiss, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, Mrs. Austin McManus, Dr. and Mrs. James Oliver, the Frederick Watsons, Ben Shearers, Roy Colegate, Mr. and Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. Frank Bogert.

Lt. General and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell (USMC Retired) of Coronado, were guests of the Irving Snyders, and Miss Inger Stevens of New York, Bill Fry and Jim Wharton were with the Bennets. With the Hicks were Mrs. Harry Dart, Mrs. Joe Dyer, Lee Anderson and Hugh O'Brian.

No-Iron Cottons Save on Labor

NEW YORK — One group of laundry experts says the new "no iron" cottons will cut a home-maker's ironing time by 85 per cent.

The Tide Washing Clinic said that the new, smooth cottons advertised as "drip dry" don't mean the ironing board will go into permanent storage. But the clinic said ironing hours could be cut as much as 85 per cent. It found that most of the no-iron cottons look better when given a touch up, at least for collars and cuffs, seams and hems. The no-iron term applies literally to many sports and play clothes, which dry as promised on the label.

The clinic cautioned, however, that even the best of the drip-dry finishes will wash out eventually. So avoid over-washing in the machine; set the automatic washer for three to five minutes. The clinic also recommended lukewarm water for washing and rinsing, and advised against chlorine bleaches which also might damage the resin finish.

Parent Study Group to Meet Friday Morning

Dr. Lura Oak, pediatric psychologist, will be the speaker, when the Parent Study Group meets at Katherine Finchy School Friday, at 9 a.m. She will conduct a forum following the showing of a film, titled "Children's Emotions."

Dr. Oak, who now lives in Palm Springs, studied with Dr. Arnold Gesell at his Psycho-Clinic at Yale. She also conducted the research in learning project under the United States Children's Bureau. The vision tests for children, now in use throughout the nation, were the result of this study.

The Study Group meeting is open to all parents wishing to attend. There is no charge.

Party Honors Houseguest of Mrs. Russell Payne

Mrs. Frank Russell Payne entertained at her Stevens Road home Sunday evening, honoring her houseguest Miss Bathie Stuart of New Zealand and New York. Miss Stuart, field manager for the famed Dublin Players, is a frequent visitor to Palm Springs. During an early winter visit here, she showed one of her many delightful travelogues on New Zealand.

At the conclusion of Miss Stuart's visit, today, Mrs. Payne will close her house for the season and, after spending a few days in Los Angeles, will open her Reno, Nevada home for the summer.

Many of the guests at Sunday night's gathering were surprised to learn that their hostess has published several books under the pseudonym of Greer Gay. Her most recent, a whodunit entitled "What the Well-Dressed Corpse Will Wear." The book, with a Reno locale is proving popular with mystery fans.

Among the guests enjoying the alfresco affair were the Homer Hiltons, Martin Wades, Mrs. Noble Banks, Ralph Wilcox Taylor, George Shaw, Elizabeth Goodland, Col. and Mrs. Edward Banning, Franklyn McManus, Robert Palmer, Helen Lloyd, Mrs. John Blish and Mrs. Lorena LeGroe.

Coast Conference Debates Punitive Action for UCLA

Bruins May Face Same Penalties PCC Assessed Against Washington Huskies

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — UCLA, long a football power in the West, may draw the same Pacific Coast Conference ban as Washington received if Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt comes up with the proper evidence at the next meeting in Victoria, May 18-23.

Faculty representatives returned to their homes today after the drastic action which eliminated the Huskies from the Rose Bowl for two years, leveled the equivalent of a $53,000 fine and stopped all post-season competition. The UCLA case will be considered at the Victoria session.

UCLA, BEATEN by Michigan St. in the Rose Bowl, Jan. 1, isn't eligible to the next Rose Bowl under the every-other-year pact with the Big Ten. But if the Bruins were banned it definitely could be a big item the following year.

There wasn't a spokesman around who would be quoted on the possibilities of disciplinary action against UCLA—but, they all admitted, to be fair they would have to 'dray just about the same measures as the Huskies received if "under the table" pay evidence is uncovered.

"THE MAJOR REASON for the ban on Washington was the fact that the players received, on an average, $60 a month above the specified conference earnings of $75 a month," said a faculty representative who refused to be quoted.

"This was done with the knowledge of several members of the Husky athletic staff and others connected with the school.

"UCLA has been charged with under-the-table pay-offs of $40 a month above the specified $75—with the knowledge of some of the assistant coaches.

"IF COMMISSIONER SCHMIDT can come up with proof of these payoffs, then I can't see any reason why UCLA shouldn't receive the same type of treatment as Washington."

There is a possibility that the handling of finances at UCLA didn't get as far out of bounds as it did at Washington, and in that case, the action might not be quite as severe.

But after the "get tough" policy adopted for use against the one-time colossus of the North, Coach Red Sanders, Athletic Director Wilbur Jons and the rest at UCLA are prepared for the worst.

NEW YORK—Ed Whitey Ford was in high gear today because of a World Series lesson and a reverse philosophy that you're not losing as long as you win.

Whitey, southpaw ace of the New York Yankees, has won his first four games this season with a fantastically low earned run average of only 0.75. Going the distance in each contest, he has allowed only three earned runs in 36 innings.

"I'm just concerned with not losing too many," he explained. "If I take care of the losses, the victories will take care of themselves. After all, if you win 20 but lose 12 or 15, you're not doing so well."

MEANWHILE, and it may have something to do with his fine start, the chunky 27-year old is applying a lesson he learned watching Johnny Podres beat the Yankees twice in last fall's World Series. "I learned a lot from him," Ford revealed. "He was keeping our big hitters off stride by changing up constantly. If he could do it, why not me."

Fast starts like this are nothing new to Whitey. Last season he won his first three games but then was knocked out four times in a row before he captured number four. Then, too, there was 1950.

THAT WAS THE year the Yanks called him up from Kansas City and he took eight games in a row down the stretch to help win the pennant. Then he won the final game of the series, with ninth in-

SEEK SABOTAGE CLUES AT INDIANAPOLIS TRACK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Any mechanics were looking today for someone they claimed tried to "sabotage" a car entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race by clogging the fuel line with a cigarette.

Mechanics Frank Delroy and Frank Glibben insisted it was no accident that the unsmoked cigarette was found in the car piloted by Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif. Elisian had trouble getting fuel to the engine Monday while on a practice run at the two and one-half mile oval in a car entered by Fred Sommer of Indianapolis. Glibben removed the fuel tank and found shreds of a cigaret. Earlier, he found parts of a cigarette in the bottom of the tank.

"I've been in auto racing a lot of years," the cigar-smoking Glibben growled, "and this is the first time this ever happened to me. The tank was clean when we brought the race car to the track."

"All I can say is this is a helluva thing to use for an ashtray." Delroy ruled out the possibility of accident since no one working in the garage smokes cigarettes, but Duane Carter, racing director of the United States Auto Club said he doubted it was sabotage.

He said if there were "anything to it" he would have been notified, and suggested the charge might be a coverup for a faulty mechanical performance.

Although five school records were broken, only one Palm Springs swimmer, Jerry Greenfield, qualified in the first round of the CIF swimming meet last Friday.

Greenfield had a hand in establishing new records. He broke the C 50-yard breaststroke record by five-tenths of a second, churning the distance in 31.8—to qualify third in this event. The swimmer who won this race broke the CIF record and the second place man tied the CIF mark.

The C medley relay (Greenfield, Holmes, Binzer, Lubach) and the C 4 man relay (Greenfield, Lubach, Strada, Good) both set new school marks, while the B medley relay (Chumley, Self, Bradley, DeJesus) and the B 4 man relay (DeJesus, Self, Grono, Bradley) did likewise.

Greenfield journeyed to Beverly Hills today to participate in the quarter-finals. Tomorrow John Cunningham and Gill Holloway will participate in the diving at the Beverly Hills pool. The divers did not perform last Friday.

Income Tax Creators Never Meant for It to Become Much of a Levy

WASHINGTON — There's an old story about a camel which got its nose under his Arab master's tent, probably to keep his nose warm. Anyway, the camel kept easing in until all of him was inside the tent and the Arab master was outside.

There wasn't enough room for both of them. Maybe that's the way it will be with the income tax.

The income tax was the work of two Presidents and two Congresses, equally divided between Republicans and Democrats. President Taft and a Republican Congress started the 16th Amendment to the Constitution on its way in 1909.

PRESIDENT WILSON and a Democratic Congress imposed the first individual income tax in 1913. There could not have been one among the state and national legislators who voted for the 16th Amendment who had the faintest idea what the graduated individual income tax would become. President Eisenhower plans to tap individual income taxpayers for about $35 billion in the next fiscal year.

There was an understanding all around when the 16th Amendment was adopted that it never would be much of a tax. And that was the way it started, a tap on the wrist. Under the first income tax act, a married person with two dependents and a net income of $3000 paid no tax at all. Exempt. On a net income of $5000 he paid two-tenths of one per cent. That came to $10.

TV Producer Sets Out to Find the Perfect Bosom or Bust

NEW YORK — Harry Lee Danziger, a TV producer who believes in putting up a good front, sets off this week to find the perfect bosom or bust.

Danziger is producer of a TV series, "The Vise," which is filmed in England. The plots in the mystery series often run to the routine, but the scenic wonders of its female participants are frequently spectacular. The series is exposed, if that is the word on ABC-TV.

"I believe people enjoy looking at pretty girls," explained Danziger today. "And I just love to have pretty girls on the show. We make a tremendous effort to get them, but the tough thing is finding any with talent."

Danziger and his press agent unveiled some sample photographs of the talent that had worked on the show.

DANZIGER TOSSED the photo of a green-eyed brunette on the table.

"Jennifer Jayne," he said.

She put the carpenter's sawhorse in the street in front of her home to reserve a parking space for her son's car.

Malicious mischief, throwing of a rock through the windshield of her car, was reported to police yesterday by Mrs. John Winemar, 1975 Amado Road.

HEAD-ON COLLISION on Highway 111 near Araby Point last night, hospitalized both drivers and resulted in the citing of Kenneth T. Hall, 25, driver of the truck, above, on three separate counts. Driver of the other car was Jose L. Duarte, 36, Palm Springs Hotel, who suffered only minor injuries. Hall, a Palm Springs gardener, was cited for driving without due caution, driving on the wrong side of the road, and driving with a suspended license. Officer Gene Holmes reported that Hall's license was suspended following an accident Dec. 1 on Highway 111, in which a man was fatally injured. Hall last night suffered a deep cut on the head and shattered left knee. Both cars were judged a total wreck. (Desert Sun Photo)

Wilson Denies Reds Have Outstripped U.S. Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today categorically denies reports that Russia is "far outstripping" the United States in air power.

"This is not so," Wilson told a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee. Wilson also disclosed that:

1. U.S. production of B52 intercontinental jet bombers will build up to a peak of 20 planes a month. He did not say when this peak output will be reached, but defense sources have indicated it will be early in 1958.

2. The armed forces plan to spend $3 billion for research development and production of guided missiles during the fiscal year starting next July 1st.

Wilson said the services will buy more than $2.6 billion worth of missiles and spend about $300 million on missile research in fiscal 1957. Missiles for air defense, such as the Air Force Falcon, Army Nike, and Navy Sparrow will come in increasing numbers from now on, Wilson said.

Wilson's testimony came as the subcommittee began hearings on the administration's $35.9 billion military spending budget for the coming fiscal year. It was clearly intended to answer Democratic charges that the budget provides inadequate funds for air power.

Other congressional news:

WAGES: AFL-CIO President George Meany told a Senate Labor Subcommittee the minimum wage law must be broadened to include workers still "hitched to a horse and buggy economy."

He said the minimum wage should be increased from $1 to $1.25 an hour but the "pressing" need is to include half the 20 million workers now exempt from the act.

He said counter girls, rural telephone operators, loggers and the like are the "forgotten workers of America" and still are employed at sub-standard wages.

INFORMATION: Harold L. Cross, freedom of information counsel for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, told a House Government Operations Subcommittee that legislation is needed to restrict "official discretion" on the disclosure or suppression of public information.

He said freedom of information is "the very foundation stone of freedom of speech and of the press."

SOCIAL SECURITY: Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said the Senate Finance Committee will start voting Thursday on a Democratic bill to broaden social security benefits. He said the committee hopes to finish work on the bill by Friday.

MURDER: Rep. James C. Murray (D-Ill.) proposed to make murder in interstate or foreign commerce a federal crime.

He introduced his bill shortly before the House passed legislation imposing the death penalty or life imprisonment for sabotage of an airplane or motor carrier resulting in death.

Five States Go to Polls for Primaries Today

By UNITED PRESS

A corn-belt battle between President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver in Indiana attracted major nationwide attention among five state primaries today.

Other primaries in Ohio, West Virginia, Florida and New Mexico featured some hot state races.

Mr. Eisenhower and Kefauver were unopposed in Monday's Maryland race and in today's Indiana primary. As a result, the President picks up 24 Maryland GOP convention votes and 32 in Indiana for a total of 56, while the Tennesseean gets 44 Democratic votes—18 from Maryland and 26 from Indiana.

In addition, Mr. Eisenhower will get a bonus of 56 Ohio votes, although they will be nominally pledged to unopposed favorite son Sen. John W. Bricker.

Apathy marked the Indiana primary, despite its significance. There are no big contests and only 700,000 voters are expected to turn out.

It is the first Midwest primary since President Eisenhower's controversial farm bill veto. It is not a head-on test of strength because voters cannot cross party lines.

Sarah Jenkins Quits Cahulla School Post

Miss Sarah Jenkins, third-grade teacher at Cahulla School, has tendered her resignation to the Board of Education, effective the end of this school year.

"Miss Jenkins has been with this school district 9 years, and plans to attend the school of library science at the University of Southern California next year.

The Board will act on the resignation at its meeting May 10.

Sparkman Says Threat of Third Party is Crushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman said today that Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson's Democratic Party victory in Texas Saturday crushed the threat of a third party in Dixie this year.

The Alabama Democrat, his party's vice presidential candidate in 1952, said Johnson scored a "tremendous victory" in wresting Democratic control in Texas from Gov. Allan Shivers, who bolted to support President Eisenhower four years ago.

Sparkman said the victory of party "loyalists" in Texas set a "golden example" for the rest of the South.

Alaska Flood Strands All in Town on Roofs

By UNITED PRESS

Spring floods covered 1000 square miles of Southwest Alaska today and trapped the 100 residents of a village on the roof of a two-story building.

The Alaskan floods overshadowed other weather outbreaks, including a new crop of tornadoes in Texas last night. Three twisters swooped down on Andrews and another hit near Big Springs. Three Andrews homes were severely damaged and a woman was slightly injured.

The Alaskan floodwaters poured from the Kuskokwim and Nushagak rivers. They endangered 150 native families.

The entire population of Sleight, a village 208 miles northwest of Anchorage, huddled on the roof of the schoolhouse, the only two-story building in town.

The Kuskowim's flood waters were reported dropping at Sleight, but the last word from the village was that the population was still sticking to the roof. Air Rescue squadrons from Anchorage were unable to reach the towns, following an illness of two days.

Teitelbaum Case Hearing Monday

SANTA MONICA (AP)—A hearing has been set for next Monday on a move to quash the Grand Jury indictment of Beverly Hills furrier, Albert Teitelbaum, accused of staging a fake robbery of his fur salon with two other men.

Teitelbaum's attorney challenged the legality of obtaining evidence in the case and the way the Grand Jury was formed.

The furrier, Clifford Vandewyest, Paradise Valley, Nev., and Claude W. Wilson, North Hollywood, were charged with staging a phony $280,000 robbery last Dec. 17.
